Steel Stud Manufacturers Association Announces Officers Re-election

CHICAGO, IL – (August 25, 2014) – The Steel Stud Manufacturers Association (SSMA) announced today that the SSMA membership unanimously voted to re-elect the current SSMA Officers for an additional one-year term that extends through the autumn of 2015. The SSMA Officers include Chairman Robert Clark, Chairman of Quail Run Building Materials, Inc., Vice Chairman Martin Kiehm, President of Custom Stud, and Secretary-Treasurer Lawrence Stone, President of SCAFCO.

“The vote demonstrates the confidence that the SSMA membership has in the current leadership structure,” said SSMA Chairman Robert Clark. “SSMA is proud of the contributions that the association has made to the cold formed steel manufacturing industry over the last fifteen years and looks forward to the continuance of working toward the common goal of supplying products which meet or exceed standards established by national, state and local code bodies and by recognized industry associations.”

SSMA’s Board of Directors also includes Daniel Dry of Steel Construction Systems and Mark Baryla of Olmar Supply Inc.

The Steel Stud Manufacturers Association is the Chicago-based national trade association representing leading manufacturers of steel studs, tracks and joists. Its roll forming member companies support the development and maintenance of quality product standards and specifications for the cold formed steel manufacturing industry. The organization creates market growth opportunities for cold formed steel through research, marketing and education. For more information on SSMA, please visit www.ssma.com.
